Commit: 49d54999e6 - style: update page background to white color

Time: 16:55:57 IST | Full Hash: 49d54999e6e04c45956df4233c5aab4ec0c9a488

1. What Changed:

- Replaced background utility classes (bg-slate-50, bg-slate-100/60, bg-slate-50/50) with pure white (bg-white / #ffffff) in App.tsx, Hero.tsx, About.tsx, Skills.tsx, Projects.tsx, Certifications.tsx, and Contact.tsx.
- Updated src/index.css to set default background-color: #ffffff for html and body tags.
- Modified ThemeProvider.tsx to set the default initial theme state fallback to 'light'.

2. Why It Changed:

The user submitted a request (make page background whitecolor) to update the application background from slate-tinted grey to pure white.

Commit: 2161bc62c7 - fix: enforce pure white background across all sections and themes

Time: 17:08:52 IST | Full Hash: 2161bc62c7b7ed26ec008ce0a70680d3eb63d822

1. What Changed:

- Stripped out dark:bg-slate-950 and dark:bg-slate-900 background utility overrides from top-level App wrapper, hero background layer, section containers, and footer.
- Updated src/index.css to set html, body, #root { background-color: #ffffff !important; background: #ffffff !important; }.
- Refactored ThemeProvider.tsx to force default light theme and eliminate stale dark mode persistence in browser localStorage.

2. Why It Changed:

Users visiting the site with previously stored dark mode settings in browser localStorage were still seeing dark slate backgrounds because Tailwind's dark:bg-slate-950 class took precedence over bg-white. Removing those dark slate classes and applying !important rules ensured a pure white canvas on every device and browser reload.
